Pre-reading activities: Before reading The Crook and the Crown complete some or all of the activities below to peak interest in the story, as well as to increase comprehension, reading, and predicting skills. The next two pages have pre-reading activities to try as well.

1. The Crook and The Crown is the perfect opportunity to introduce a study of medieval times or mythology or both! Show students pictures of various castles from around the world. Use the diagram on the following page to point out parts of castles. Ask students what each area might have been used for in that time period. More helpful diagrams can be found on this website:
<http://masterman535.hubpages.com/hub/Labeled-Diagram-of-a-Castle#slide701723>
2. Let students make their own 3-D castles in groups or on their own, using recycled materials.
3. Take students to the library to select a book of mythology from the 292 section of the library. This would be a great time to discuss the arrangement of most school libraries (the Dewey Decimal system) starting with the page that follows.

FUN WAYS TO LEARN VOCABULARY WORDS

FOR THE CROOK AND THE CROWN

- Let students decorate their own castles, by using the following handout or designing their own. They must hide all the vocabulary words they are given somewhere in the picture. Put students in pairs. Can they find each other's words? Have students write the words they've hidden in the space below the castle. Their partner can circle the words (the words at the bottom) after they've found it in the picture.
- Let students pick a word and make it into a castle!
- Let students go on a word search for one minute in The Crook and the Crown to fill up the bookmark on the following page. Let them share their words and fill up the graph.
- Let students make a crown with their favorite word on it, or one you assign. Let them wear the crown all day and teach other students their word.
- Play word bingo using the following card.

Chapter 4/life skills/history

NAME:

DATE:

In chapter four of The Crook and The Crown, the royal tailor measures the mergirls for beautiful gowns. Sewing is a skill that everyone should know, beginning with sewing on a button. Invite a local tailor into your classroom to show you how to sew. Another fun project for your classroom is to make a classroom quilt. In the early days of the United States, families sewed pieces of fabric together to make a quilt to stay warm. Sometimes the fabric was put into a pattern to make a beautiful picture, or sometimes the design was stitched onto the fabric. Use the space below to make your own quilt design. You can cut out your design and put your piece together with the rest of your class to make a classroom paper quilt. Leave the frame empty. Visit www.debbiedadey.com to see quilts made by Debbie's family.
